There are a lot of different things that you are responsible for. But recycling is a choice. It is something you should but don't always do! I think recycling is a good way to help conserve and preserve our many communities. It helps in saving our trees by using less paper and supplying us with more oxygen.

You can recycle anywhere you go. At home you can recycle many things you use, such as: paper, batteries, cans, glass and clothing. You can also use these things more than once, like paper and clothing. Instead of using a paper bag for lunch, use a lunch bag instead. And you can give your clothes to someone who really needs them.

Another place you can recycle is at work or school. I know schools and at work, people use a lot of recyclable paper. Their computers and other electronics that can be recycled and they are not recycled, they can possibly damage the earth.

Do you ever think how the earth would be in the future without recycling? I do, and I think and want this world to remain as it was when I first came into it. Recycling is one way to help protect our planet Earth. So, I for one, feel recycling should be a responsibility. I care about my community and the people in it. We all should come together and save our communities and our planet. So start recycling your things!

By writing this paper, I've been inspired to recycle and to never stop.
